

IEEE Senior Member — Application System Notes

Personal reference notes, compiled Aug. 2026. Not an official IEEE document.

No fixed official template ieee.org does not publish a mandatory “Senior Member CV template” file. The actual official requirement lives inside the online application system at nominate.ieee.org, which is a set of structured form fields rather than a single document. Some Regions (e.g., Region 3, Region 5) publish their own recommended (not mandatory) resume templates to help candidates prepare, but these are volunteer-created aids, not ieee.org requirements.

The application has four tabs

- Application Info / Nominee Information — basic info; pre-fills once your IEEE member number is entered.
- Professional Experience (Education + Employment) — a structured field, not a free-form upload. For each entry you must provide:
 - Organization name and address
 - Start date and end date, both to the month and year (not just the year)
 - Job title / degree
 - A description of duties and responsibilities

Reviewers specifically check that start/end dates make sense and do not illogically overlap (e.g., two full-time roles at once without explanation).

- Significant Performance — a separate free-text box (limit: 4997 characters), not the same as the CV attachment. Must describe discrete projects using: what you did (task) → your specific role → why it was significant (quantified impact) → time period. Do not put awards/honors/thank-yous here. Dates need not be consecutive but must sum to ≥ 60 months. Do not pad past ~ 70 months — reviewers explicitly discourage over-filling this field.
- Attachments — this is where you upload a PDF resume/CV. A resume is mandatory; the format is not strictly enforced, but Region committees strongly encourage using month/year precision and detailed duty descriptions consistent with the Professional Experience tab, since a well-structured resume makes independent verification much easier for reviewers and reference-writers.
- References — up to 4 references; you need their IEEE membership numbers. If self-nominating, 3 references are required; if nominated by a Senior Member/Fellow, only 2 additional referrals are needed (the nomination itself counts as one).

Relationship between the CV attachment and the online fields

The uploaded CV/resume PDF (Attachments tab) is a supplementary document, not a substitute for filling in the Professional Experience and Significant Performance fields directly in the system. Both must be completed:

- The Significant Performance text box in the online form is what the Admission & Advancement (A&A) Review Panel actually reads and scores against the eligibility criteria — it must be filled in directly on the website.
- The attached CV is useful context for reviewers and, especially, for your references/nominator, who may quote or draw on it when writing their referral. Uploading the “Tian_Lan_CV_IEEE_SeniorMember.pdf” document (which already contains a Significant Performance section written in the recommended task/role/why-significant/duration format) makes it very easy to copy-paste/adapt that section into the online text box when the time comes — but the copy-paste step itself still needs to happen in the system.

Eligibility quick-check (IEEE Bylaw I-104.3)

- Ten years of professional practice in an IEEE-designated field (Computer Science / AI qualifies). Degree credit: Bachelor’s = 3 yrs, Bachelor’s+Master’s = 4 yrs, Doctorate = 5 yrs. Credited years and actual work/school years for the same period cannot both be counted — choose whichever combination gives the larger, most defensible total.
- Five years (60+ months, not necessarily consecutive) of significant performance within that practice.
- Three references, each currently holding IEEE Senior Member, Fellow, or Honorary Member grade.
- No extra fee for the elevation itself; you must already be (or become) a paying IEEE Member first.

Process overview

1. Join/renew IEEE Membership (if not already a member).
2. Log in to nomin ate.ieee.org; fill in Professional Experience, Education, Significant Performance, and Present Occupation tabs.
3. Upload the CV/resume PDF under Attachments.
4. Add 3 references (their IEEE numbers); wait for their status to change from “Notified” to “Complete” — do not click Submit before that.
5. Submit at least 10 days before the next Region review-panel date.
6. Track status via the Senior Member Application Status Report; approval typically follows within ~2 weeks of the panel review.
